

Strategy for the Strategy Room

As we engaged Heaven, we met Jesus and Malcolm and were led to a Conference Room within the LifeSpring Complex. Malcolm began to give us strategy about strategy.

What looked like a PowerPoint was showing on the wall and Malcolm began to teach from it. The setting reminded us of an engagement several months before that got interrupted. This was a continuation of that engagement. Malcolm pointed out these simple strategies for us to employ:

Strategy #1: Check yourself. Go before the Lord and repent of anything you must repent of and be spirit forward as you do so.

Strategy #2: Get your angels involved. Call them near.

Strategy #3: Go to the Strategy Room (your personal strategy room).

At this point, the lady who appeared with us took us to a giant map on a backlit table. The lady served as a counselor to us within the Strategy Room to help us as we receive strategies for an issue. We could see open doors everywhere in this place as if there were different portals everywhere. It appeared as if you had choices as to which door to enter, so as you selected one or were drawn to one...

Strategy #4: Receive the strategy for the portal you step in.

Stephanie looked at the map on the table. It was her personal map and was her personal map of doors. We all get our own strategy room.

We were told we could incorporate legions of angels here and commission them to the various tasks each door represented. In the Roman army a legion consisted of 6,000 soldiers. You commission them once you open a particular door.

The mind map Stephanie saw had various groupings displayed on it. One was about her family, the next was about her work, and the next about the various relationships in her life. If you have an issue or if something is on your heart, you can consult your map and see the door that you need to access. Then go through that door, incorporate the legion of angels, and see Heaven's solution work itself out in that situation.

Fresh on Stephanie's heart was a situation with her children who were going through a situation. Speaking to the Strategy Counselor, she said, "I would like to go through a door that has to do with my children and my mother. I need a strategy so I do not walk at a lower frequency and I do not get sucked into their guilt. I would like to go through this door, so I am going to step through this door."

As she stepped through the door, she found herself in a park. She could see her children on a swing set. She was being shown something that happened that influenced them as children to feel the way that they feel and do the way that they do to Stephanie now. She could see herself sitting on a park bench talking on her phone and she was very upset. She realized this occurred years before when the girls' biological father was struggling with alcohol, and it was often very unsafe for them to be around him. This was one of the times that they had escaped. Malcolm sat next to her on the park bench and said, "You were present, but you were not present. You entertained a lower frequency."

She asked him, "So what happened with the girls?"

He replied, "A trust issue."

He then had her look at them, and he said, "Do you believe they trust you right now?"

She replied, "I do."

He said, "Do you believe they trust their environment?"

She responded, "I tried to shield them, but I am sure I did not. This is where chaos entered." She could see a spirit lurking around the girls on the swing set. She saw it then divide itself so it could be two spirits.

Stephanie asked, “What is the strategy, Malcolm?”

Immediately she knew to invite Jesus into this situation for the girls. She said, “Jesus, will your manifest presence be in this time? I want to repent for not being present, for not knowing what to do, for being in a state of chaos myself and inviting it into our lives. It was a state of chaos we lived in, not knowing one moment to the next if my husband would be himself or somebody else where we had to escape. Jesus. I repent and I repent on his behalf and on behalf of our generations for inviting the spirit of chaos, for entertaining it, for allowing it, and where we allowed it to affect the next generation. I ask for your blood to cover this Jesus.

Immediately, Jesus was on the scene, and he snapped his fingers, and the two entities went away.

Amazed, Stephanie asked, “Is it that easy?”

Jesus said, “Of course it is...It's just principality.”

He snapped his fingers, and they went away. They were lurking behind my children. It had divided itself. Chaos always divides. It had divided itself to enter both of them.

She asked, “Was it in me, Jesus?”

He said, “This is a picture of the reality that chaos as a spirit was working in your lives. This is the picture of it passing to the next generation.”

Stephanie queried, “Jesus, will you make it as if it never were?”

He said, “I already have. I make all things new.

Stephanie then saw the girls get off the swing and come over and sit by her where she began hugging them.

She said, “I am asking that trust be restored here. Is there a scripture for a constructive trust for this moment?”

She was directed to 1 Kings 3:10 where the Lord is speaking to Solomon once he became king and said, “Because you've made this request instead of asking for long life or riches for yourself or your enemy's death, but rather asked for understanding and discerning justice, I'm granting what you have requested. I am giving you a wise and understanding heart so that there has never been anyone like you. I will give you long life.”

She then thanked the Father for the constructive trust of 1 Kings 3.

Strategy #5: Commission the legion of angels

Stephanie found herself back in the Strategy Room. She said, “It's my request now that the legions of angels go and cause what she just saw to happen.”

Malcolm explained that the legions of angels are at our disposal to do with as we see fit because we have the understanding and that we will use wisdom in this.

I asked, “How do we apply this to LifeSpring right now?”

Knowing we have a Strategy Room, we asked permission to enter it. Malcolm and Ezekiel were in the room. We were seeking strategy for resources. Through the windows, Stephanie could see an entity lurking around looking in windows. It is like it was looking for openings. It did not have an actual physical form. It was like black smoke. She could see it stopping and looking in different entrances around what would be the entity of LifeSpring.

I commissioned Ezekiel to close every gap, and every opening that would cause unnecessary exposure to LifeSpring. Then, reminded that I had a legion of angels at my disposal, I said, “I commission the legion of angels to go and close every opening, every problematic place and to also to bring in the resources that are needed for the ministry.”

Stephanie saw angels coming to every entrance and setting up guard.

She asked, “Malcolm, are we able to ask in this place that every strategy of hell would be conquered by the legion of angels?”

He affirmed that we could, so we requested that every strategy of hell be conquered by the legion of angels.

We were reminded to forgive, bless, and release those who have not given to the ministry,

We asked to step into the Mercy Court, and we repented on the people's behalf. The people that are hearing, listening, gaining information or they have forgotten, or purposefully not give, or felt like they could not sow into the ministry. We repented on their behalf. We asked for the blood of Jesus to cover it. We forgave, blessed, and released them because they had been stealing from God and not from anyone else. We then asked for the amendment as if it never were and that the gates be opened back up and that they have an understanding about giving into this ministry.

We prayed, "We thank you in advance for the resources of Heaven, in Jesus' name. Forgive us if we have murmured against the people because they have not given, if we have said anything, just in speaking that the enemy would try to use just in talking about finances that the enemy would try to use against LifeSpring. We asked for the blood of Jesus. Now we are asking for Heaven's strategies." We then asked for a constructive trust and were given the Beatitudes as the constructive trust.

We then requested that all of this be placed on record and rendered, and that the legion of angels do this work in the name of Jesus.

We dealt with another unrelated situation and found ourselves back in the Conference Room with Malcolm. He then said, "That wasn't so bad, was it?"

We replied, "No, it's never bad in Heaven."

The Strategy for the Strategy Room

Strategy #1: Check yourself. Go before the Lord and repent of anything you must repent of and be spirit forward as you do so.

Strategy #2: Get your angels involved. Call them near.

Strategy #3: Go to the Strategy Room (your personal strategy room).

Check your map and step through the door for the situation needing assistance.

Strategy #4: Receive the strategy for the portal you step in.

Strategy #5: Commission the angels to assist with the situation.
